Call to Justice Rice Bowl Collection for Catholic Relief Services (CRS)—In Burkina Faso, we encounter Safiata, a mother, grandmother and farmer who relies on the money she makes from her crops to put her children through school.

How can our purchases this Lent support farmers and artisans? How can you support those worldwide who are forced to flee their homes to find safety or better opportunities? Visit crsricebowl.org for more.

Food, Fellowship, Discussion and Prayer—The next men’s prayer breakfast is Saturday, March 10, at 8:00 a.m. March 10 is the midpoint of the Lenten season. It is an opportunity to share and grow spiritually with other men of St. Joseph and St. Stephen Parishes. Please bring a friend and join us.

Celebration of Ministry—St. Joseph Parish members, staff and councils recognize the presence of the Holy Spirit in calling forth Pat Wenzl as our Children's Liturgy Coordinator. We are so grateful for the time you spend making sure that the children of our Parish have a meaningful experience at Sunday Liturgies.

How is the Holy Spirit calling you to use your gifts for our community?

Sponsor of the Month—Thank you Check's Muffler Center & Service for your generosity in sponsoring our bulletin. St. Joseph Parish would not be able to publish our bulletin without your support. Please see their ad on the back cover of this bulletin.

Ehr Hall Update—The painting and floors are complete in Ehr Hall. The next project, cleaning the ceiling tiles, began earlier this week. The bathrooms remain closed at this time.

Weekly Reflections—We all know the Ten Commandments. It seems simple enough to follow these rules, but do we really think about what they mean. Reflect on each one and consider what it means in your life. We proclaim one God, but do we create little gods—money, approval, status? Does keeping the Sabbath holy mean attending Mass or is there more to it? Are there ways we might “kill” people without inflicting mortal, physical wounds? Jesus summed up all the Commandments: Love God and love your neighbor as yourself. How well are you keeping the Commandments?

*The command of the Lord is clear;
 enlightening the eye.

More than Just SUNDAY

Glimpses of the past – 150th Anniversary of the Diocese of La Crosse begins

As the 150th anniversary of the diocese gets underway March 3-4 with special Masses celebrated by Bishop Callahan in Prairie du Chien, what follows are a few “snapshots” from our colorful history. They are condensed and adapted from “Feed my Lambs,” the official book on 150 years of Catholic life in the Diocese of La Crosse, available in parishes ($35).

An Age of Adventure, Danger and Holy Mission

Flash back for a moment to a virgin land with no cities or towns, a land of prairies, bluffs, rivers and woods. First traversed only by Native American tribes, this land, including present-day Wisconsin, would in the early 1600's begin to see European (mostly French) explorers, fur trappers and Jesuit missionary priests.

The first Mass in what is today Wisconsin was celebrated by Jesuit Fr. René Menard in August of 1660. A missionary to the Huron tribe, Fr. Menard was accompanying a group of traders. To give an idea of the perils of the time, he became separated from his traveling party at one point and was never seen again. His breviary and cassock turned up years later among the Sioux, who treasured these relics of the priest.

Twelve years later, Fr. Jacques Marquette, S.J. and fur trader Louis Jolliet passed through present-day Wisconsin as they went in search of a great river the native peoples of Illinois called “Messipi,” a river that was said to empty into the sea. Fr. Marquette wrote in his diary:

The joy that we felt at being selected for this expedition animated our courage, and rendered the labor of paddling from morning to night agreeable to us.... Above all, I placed our voyage under the protection of the Blessed Virgin Immaculate.

On June 17, 1673, led down the Wisconsin River by native guides, Jolliet and Fr. Marquette at last came upon the great river, the “Messipi.” Of course, today we know it by a slightly longer name – the Mississippi.

An Italian Priest in Prairie du Chien

By the late 1600's, a strong missionary foundation had been laid in present-day Wisconsin, but hostilities and wars disrupted it. In 1728 the last missionary priest was recalled to French Canada, thus beginning a hundred-year period without priests.

The Faith persisted among Native American converts and European immigrants, however, and finally in 1827 an area that included Prairie du Chien – a key town along the fur trading route – began to be visited by itinerant priests on horseback, known as the “clergy cavalry.”

Then in 1827, a young Italian Dominican priest by the name of Carlo Gaetano Samuele Mazzuchelli was recruited as a missionary to the northern Mississippi region by Bishop Edward Fenwick of the newly established Diocese of Cincinnati. Fr. Mazzuchelli visited present-day Green Bay and then, on September 21, 1832, came to Prairie du Chien.

“The Prairie will become a considerable place in the new Territory”

Thoroughly impressed by the place, Fr. Mazzuchelli wrote, “Here we are at Prairie du Chien, that immense prairie which follows the Mississippi for many miles, with a chain of hills to the east.... In the opinion of the public, the Prairie will become a considerable place in the new Territory.” But, he added, “The poor people wandering about without a shepherd were dying of that hunger of the soul which destroys life.”

At a time of intense national prejudices, it was not easy to be Italian, but the young missionary won the hearts of natives and immigrants alike, though the Irish Catholics struggled with his long name and decided to adapt “Fr. Mazzuchelli” to “Fr. Matthew Kelly” instead!

St. Gabriel – First church in Wisconsin

Fr. Mazzuchelli had heard talk of building a log church in Prairie du Chien. No, he said, it must be stone, which would be both more durable and less expensive. In July of 1839, with the energetic young priest acting as both architect and designer, the work began on St. Gabriel Church. Fr. Mazzuchelli had just been appointed vicar general to the new bishop of Dubuque, Mathias Loras, whom he persuaded to come to Prairie du Chien for the laying of the cornerstone. It was the first visit of a bishop to the future Diocese of La Crosse, resulting in an extraordinary gathering for the small frontier town. More than 700 Catholics participated and a collection was taken up that raised more than $700 for the building fund.

In 1993, Fr. Mazzuchelli was declared Venerable by Pope John Paul II, the first step toward canonization. As for St. Gabriel Church, it still stands today (with renovations), a testament to the holy priest and to the faith of our ancestors who built it. It is the oldest church not only in the diocese, but in the state.

These are just a few glimpses from our illustrious past. May we come to know and treasure that history. And may we be made, by God's grace, worthy successors in His continued plan for the Diocese of La Crosse that we call home.

Catholics Returning Home

Do you know someone who has left the Church? Most of us do not have to look very far to find non-practicing Catholics in our circle of family and friends. Many of us are concerned about these loved ones however we don't know how to help them. Obviously, most of them are searching, but how can we help them find their way home?

As baptized, practicing Catholics we have a precious gift of faith and love from the Lord that needs to be shared with our non-practicing brothers and sisters. First, we need to pray for them. Secondly, we need to extend a personal invitation to them to come home to the Catholic Church. Most non-practicing Catholics are waiting for an invitation to return. Many mistakenly think they are excommunicated and are not welcome to return for a variety of reasons.

Many non-practicing Catholics carry a tremendous amount of guilt and misinformation about the Church so they are afraid of approaching the Church for fear of being rejected. You can make a tremendous difference in someone's life simply by reaching out to them and telling them that we miss them and would like for them to come back home to our Church family.

Here at St Joseph & St Stephen Parishes, we have a special program to help non-practicing Catholics return to the Church called Catholics Returning Home. The next series begins Monday, April 9, 6:30 p.m., in the St. Stephen Religious Education Office.

Please pass this article on to anyone who might be interested.
